Record turn-out for Village Action Meeting

South Godstone Villagers turned out despite rain in record numbers to discuss the Outline Planning Permission sought by Property Developers Regency & Co to build 500 dwellings plus commercial space on prime green belt land at the North of the village.

The committee of South Godstone Village Action (SGVA) spoke about the actions planned and the methods of objecting to this massive overdevelopment of the small Surrey village. Also in attendance were Catherine Sayer the Leader of Tandridge District Council and its Chair Mike Crane.

Representatives from the Tandridge Land Action Group (TLAG) were in attendance along with Alban Brindle the Chair of Godstone Village Association (GVA) also attended. TLAG were at the forefront of the fight against the proposed 'Garden Village' which was halted some time ago and Godstone have similar problems with unwelcome developments in their area.

News that the 200 dwellings proposed on green belt land to the south of the village had been rejected by TDC planning committee was met with cautious optimism. Although the government is trying to take responsibility for planning away from local Councils in an effort to force through more housing, it is felt the strong reasons for not approving such unsustainable overdevelopments, in such non-connected locations will be overwhelming and have to be rejected at any level of administration.

Tamzie Hollands who is part of the Steering Committee of SGVA was also in attendance, despite her defeat in the recent local election, which is somewhat unfortunate for the Lib Dem's for who she stood for, but fortunate for SGVA and also the Residents Association which she is secretary of.

SGVA Treasurer spoke of the importance of getting as much money donated as possible, he also noted the group have seen a significant increase in money coming into the bank account over recent days, please keep up the good work.
